STOPS PAIN

Athens, Tenn., Jan. 27, 1901.
Ever since the first appearance of my menses they were very irregular and I suffered with great pain in my hips, back, stomach and legs, with terrible bearing down pains in the abdomen. During the past month I have been taking Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught, and I passed the monthly period without pain for the first time in years. NANNIE DAVIS.

What is life worth to a woman suffering like Nannie Davis suffered? Yet there are women in thousands of homes to-day who are bearing those terrible menstrual pains in silence. If you are one of these we want to say that this same will bring you permanent relief. Console yourself with the knowledge that 1,000,000 women have been completely cured by Wine of Cardui. A Telegrapher's Story

Dick Ramsey and I, after learning telegraphy, had gone west together and taken positions at neighboring railroad stations.

One afternoon there came a frantic call at the wire, and I hurried to the instrument to hear Dick tapping off the words that the express train had been delayed and to hold the "runaway," due at the station ten minutes later, until I heard from him. Directly after the message came the line: "Express train in sight. Something wrong. Stand by." I waited a full minute; then came Dick's familiar tap tap: "Express is being run by strange hands. They have stopped at this station. Send relief."

There was a second's silence; then, before I could flash the alarm along the line, the tapping began again. It ran: "Everything all right. Goodby."

I signaled for him to repeat the message, and again came the words: "Everything all right. Goodby."

I held the instrument in my hand and debated with myself upon my course of conduct. I did not want to needlessly send the alarm along the line. On the other hand, why had Dick sent his first message? I touched the instrument and asked, "Is everything all right, Dick?" And the answer came back, "Everything is all right."

It did not seem at all like Dick's touch, but I laid it to nervousness and quieted my fears while I waited for the "runaway."

I recalled that Dick had told me over the wire the previous evening that the "runaway" would have a large sum of money aboard, which it was to transfer to the express at his station.

When the "runaway" came up, I notified the engineer that the express was waiting for him at Lakeville, and I also casually mentioned that the alarm had come from there, but that afterward I had received a message that all was well.

He seemed disturbed and advised me to repeat the story to the United States marshal aboard, which I did, with the result that the train pulled out of the station prepared for emergencies, though neither they nor I thought anything of the hasty message that had been flashed to me.

Ten minutes later the message came over the wires from Lakeville: "Found train in charge of highwaymen. Dick Ramsey murdered at instrument. Object was to rob the 'runaway,' but we overpowered them after a desperate struggle. Notify the stations along the line to send relief."

This, in brief, was the story of the death of Dick Ramsey, and after I had seen him laid away in the graveyard at Lakeville I packed up my goods and journeyed farther on, for I could not remain so near the scene of my old friend's death.

Well, strange things happen, and after I had found a position with the same company fifty miles away I was assigned back to Lakeville.

I found the village grown into a settlement of very fair size and the simple little station replaced by a very pretentious one, while the humble little churchyard where they had buried poor Dick Ramsey was gay with flowering shrubs, and spires of marble lifted themselves here and there among the trees. Dick's grave was still marked by the rude cross I had placed over it.

The president of the road was a self made man. Often he did not go up to the city, and on these occasions he wired me on his private line, and I wired to the city for him.

One day, chancing to sit at the instrument, there came a call on the president's wire, and, responding, I received this message: "Let me know if the road is clear."

A minute later I called up his private wire and tapped, "The road is clear."

"All right," came back the answer.

It was a simple enough message, but it set my pulses throbbing. Mechanically I touched the button and repeated the message, "The road is clear," and immediately came back the words, "All right."

I sat at the instrument like a man in a dream, and my thoughts were with Dick, who had sat at the same spot five years before and had touched that same instrument. What was there in that reply that so fascinated me, or was it the anniversary of poor Dick's death that made me fanciful?

That afternoon the president came down to the station on business, and I looked at him closely. He must have seen me watching him, for he shifted his position uneasily and nervously handled the instrument. I may say that he was an expert operator and preferred telegraphing his messages to writing them.

He seemed ill at ease that day, and I withdrew my eyes and busied myself elsewhere. But more than once he caught me looking at him.

Twice that day the president drove down to the station, and slowly he drove home again, as though he were disturbed about something. The third time he came it was almost dark, and I heard him send his coachman home, telling him that he would follow soon on foot.

For half an hour the president busied himself around the station, a most unusual thing for him, and when he finally took leave it was to walk hurriedly away in the direction of the churchyard, a journey which I often took myself.

Scarcely realizing what I was doing, I pulled my cap over my eyes and started after him. What excuse I would make if he turned and saw me I knew not. I only understood that some force was pulling me onward and that same force was taking me over the same road and in the very footprints of President Greydon of the Lakeville and Laska railway.

To my surprise, he turned the corner as he reached the church, and, plodding his way past it, opened the gate which led into the churchyard and slowly wended his way among the graves. Noiselessly I followed him. Through the narrow paths we went, he the substance, I the shadow close after him.

But, horror of horrors, he stopped! And, my God, he bent over Dick Ramsey's grave! Lower and lower he sank until he was upon his knees and his hands were spread out upon the sod. In the uncertain light of the rising moon I could see that he threw back his head, that his face was drawn and deadly white and that his lips were moving.

I must have stepped upon a twig, for a sound betrayed me. Springing to his feet, he turned and faced me, not ten feet away.

With a cry of rage he sprang toward me. "So you followed me!" he cried fiercely between his teeth. "You dogged my steps!"

He was a powerful man, but in the struggle which followed I easily mastered him and had him pinioned, white and panting. "Do not add another murder," I said fiercely, "to that of Dick Ramsey."

"How do you know?" he whispered.

"I recognized your hand upon the wire. I was the agent at the next station when you—took Dick's place—you remember—five years ago—today!"

"Oh, God, yes!" he cried. "Shall I ever forget? When I had to come to this cursed place to live, I thought it might disappear after awhile. But it grows stronger every day. I live with it, see it, hear it—that poor fellow—all the time! Yet I had to do it or be killed. There was a gang of us. Oh, oh!" he cried, and, breaking down utterly, the proud president of the road buried his face in his hands.

It was a strange scene, we two there in the moonlight, accuser and accused, he trembling, I revengeful.

"I tried to lead a better life," he continued, "and on my gains I succeeded well. But, oh, the misery of these years! I thought tonight if I could see his grave and pray upon it I might be forgiven and have rest." His eyes sought the spot where poor Dick lay with crushed skull.

"What are you going to do?" I asked after we had stood there in silence.

"Give myself up now, I suppose," said he. "There is no other way."

The next day the whole country was ringing with the strange confession of President Greydon. He made a clean breast of it and was so manly and sincere in his repentance that nobody was sorry when his sentence was placed at a term of imprisonment instead of the death penalty, which is so summarily dealt out to criminals in the newest of the western towns.

Unthinkable.

"Suppose," said the girl with the Gibson girl neck, "you had never cared for men at all, and you fell in love with a young man at first sight"—

"Well?" said the girl with the dimple.

"And you engaged yourself to him"—

"Yes?"

"And when you married him"—

"I can't imagine anything of that kind—on a first engagement."—Chicago Tribune.

To Cut Glass With Shears.

A sheet of glass—a window pane, for example—can be cut as easily as a sheet of cardboard. The secret consists in keeping the glass, the shears and the hands under water during the operation. The glass can be cut in straight or curved lines without a break or a crack. This is because the water deadens the vibrations of the shears and the glass. If the least part of the shears comes out of the water, the vibration will be sufficient to mar the success of the experiment.

ALWAYS FEEL YOUNG.

People Grow Old by Thinking Themselves to Be Old.

People grow old by thinking themselves old. When they reach the age of forty, fifty or sixty, they imagine that they look like others of the same age and that they soon will be useless, unfit for work and unable to perform their wonted duties. As surely as they think this it will come true, for thought is creative. How many of us can say with Job, "The thing which I greatly feared is come upon me?"

The time will come when children will not be allowed to celebrate their birthday; when they will know that by thinking themselves young they will remain young and that they will cease to grow old when they cease to believe in old age. The body is built up of beliefs, and our convictions are stamped upon every fiber of our beings. What we believe, what we think, that we are. So people who remain young in spirit never grow old.

Not one of a hundred students, of whom the writer was one, under Oliver Wendell Holmes at Harvard ever thought of him as an old man, although he had then passed his eightieth birthday. His spirit was so young, and he was so buoyant, so fresh and full of life, that we always thought of him as one of ourselves. His vivacity and joyousness were contagious. You could not be in his presence five minutes without feeling brighter and better for it. The genial doctor never practiced medicine, yet he did more to relieve human suffering than many practicing physicians. His presence was a tonic. It was a perpetual delight to be near him.—Success.

Greyhound Fastest Quadruped.

A correspondent says that as the result of experiments he has made under careful timing he finds that the greyhound is the fastest of all four footed animals. When going at full gallop, it can cover twenty yards a second, or about a mile in a minute and twenty-eight seconds, a speed that comes very near that of a carrier pigeon. There are few thoroughbred horses that can exceed nineteen yards a second. Greyhounds have been known to do better than that by four yards. Foxhounds have a record of four miles in six and a half minutes, or nearly eighteen yards a second. This speed is to some extent an inherited gift, as wolves can run at the rate of a mile in three minutes. Siberian dogs can travel forty-five miles on ice in five hours.

Some Odd Looking English Hats.

Stubbs in his "Anatomy of Abuses" describes a pleasing variety of new fashioned headgear—hats perking up like the spear or shaft of a temple, hats flat and broad on the crown, like the battlements of a house, and round crowns with bands of every color. This variety of shape consorted with an equal variety of material—silk, velvet, taffeta, sarsenet, wool and "a fine hair, which they call beaver, fetched from beyond the seas." Whoso had not hat of velvet or hat of taffeta was held of no account among the gilded youth of the time, and so common a thing was this ostentation in the matter of head covering that "every serving man, countryman or other, even all indifferently, did wear of these hats."—All the Year Round.

REAL ENJOYMENT.

The woman who reads this will understand to the full what Mrs. Tipton meant when she says: "I am enjoying good health." It takes a person who has been made wretched by sickness to understand the joy of health.

There are very many women who suffer as did Mrs. Tipton, who might be cured as she was by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well.

"It is with pleasure I recommend Dr. Pierce's medicine," writes Mrs. Nora Tipton, of Cropper (Cropper Station), Shelby Co., Kentucky. "You remember my case was one of female weakness and weak lungs. I had no appetite and would often spit blood; was confined to my bed almost half of the time and could hardly stand on my feet at times for the pains through my whole body and system. My husband had to pay large doctor bills for me, but since I have taken four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, four of 'Favorite Prescription' and three vials of 'Pleasant Pellets' we haven't paid any more doctor bills. It had been seven months since I stopped using Dr. Pierce's medicines and I have been enjoying good health all the time. I can never praise these medicines too highly, for I have received so much benefit. I pray that many who suffer as I did will take Dr. Pierce's medicines. I am sure they will never fail to cure when given a fair trial. Everybody tells me I look better than they ever saw me. I am sure I feel better than I ever did before."

"Favorite Prescription" has the testimony of thousands of women to its complete cure of womanly diseases. Do not accept an unknown and unproved substitute in its place.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a ladies' laxative. No other medicine equals them for gentleness and thoroughness.

THE Hoppers of Santa Rosa have at last been divorced, the decree being signed by Judge Dougherty Monday.

THE Southern Pacific Company has requested that an exhibit of Sonoma county products be sent to Chicago to form part of the exhibit in that city.

GEN. SHAFTER, the hero of Santiago de Cuba, will be a candidate before the Republicon State Convention for the nomination of Governor of California.

C. M. BUMBAUGH, who was defeated by J. M. Carter for Treasurer of Santa Rosa at the recent municipal election in that city, will contest the election. Carter's majority was but seven votes.

THERE are nearly 200 students absent from the University of California, Berkeley — half the number because they didn't get vaccinated and the other half because they did. Many cases of vaccination have caused serious inflammation and illness.

A BIG baboon escaped from a traveling show in Santa Rosa last Saturday night and took up its quarters in the basement of Mrs. J. G. Moody's residence, where it was discovered by the lady of the house the following morning. To say that Mrs. Moody was frightened when confronted by the big monster would hardly express her feelings. She did not faint, however, but beat a hasty retreat and gave an alarm, and the baboon was subsequently secured by its trainer and returned to its cage.

THE House of Representatives has passed the Chinese Exclusion bill. With the amendments tacked on to the original bill it is a very strong measure, and one, too, which will make the people of the Pacific Coast states rejoice. The new bill practically re-enacts the Geary Act, and gives us something more besides to enable us to keep out the Asiatic hordes to compete with American manufactories and American labor. The most drastic measure of the new Act is that which excludes Chinese by birth, descent and mixed blood.

Oil for the Children.

Give them oil—cod-liver oil. It's curious to see the result.

Give it to the peevish, fretful child, and he laughs. Give it to the pale, anæmic child, and his face becomes rosy and full of health. Take a flat-chested child, or a child that has stopped growing, give him the oil, and he will grow big and strong like the rest.

This is not a new scheme. It has been done for years. Of course you must use the right oil. Scott's Emulsion is the one.

Scott's Emulsion neither looks nor tastes like oil because we are so careful in making it pleasant to take.

Mike Mullen is contemplating a trip to Fresno in the near future.

Miss Grace Carmer was a visitor to Glen Ellen one day last week.

Mike Mullen will purchase a new 1902 bike in San Francisco next week.

Lieutenant Wm. Gill of the San Francisco Fire Department spent Sunday visiting friends in this place.

Wm. Kearney, who has been visiting friends in Tuolumne county for the last three weeks, returned home Saturday night.

Robert E. Denehey, the young Southern Pacific station agent at this place who is relieving the regular agent M. F. Mullen, took in the High School entertainment and dance in Sonoma on Friday night of last week.

A large crowd of El Verano and Sonoma people attended the opening of A. Yenni's saloon in this place last Saturday night. Among the Sonomaites present were Fred Goess of the "Dew Drop" and Wm. Kerner of the "O. K."

L. Mouyer met with a serious accident last Monday. While chopping wood, the axe slipped and striking Mr. Mouyer on the right leg the sharp blade nearly split his knee cap in two. Dr. Carl Walliser of Sonoma dressed and stitched up the wound, which was an ugly one. At this writing Mr. Mouyer is doing nicely and his many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

HE FEARED HE HAD LOST

When Wu Ting Fang, the famous Chinese Minister to Washington, irritable and somewhat forgetful from a severe cold, missed one day from the front of his cap the immense diamond he always wears there, he was dreadfully frightened. A friend pointed out that the statesman had inadvertently donned his turban wrong side before, and that the diamond was safe in the rear. Had Wu Ting Fang been wearing a Benson's Porous Plaster on his chest or back to cure his cold, he never would have doubted its location. He would have felt it doing its work,—warming and making flexible the torpid muscles, extracting the pain and soreness, promoting the free circulation of the blood, stimulating the skin and lungs to proper action, and so dissolving and banishing the malady. Thus we perceive, beloved friends, that while a pretty thing to look upon, was of no practical use. But Benson's Plasters are supremely useful. They relieve and cure gout, rheumatism, neuralgia, colds on the chest, lame back, etc., so quickly and completely as to make you wonder how it can be. THE CHEERFUL IDIOT

And the Glum Dyspeptic.

The cheerful idiot is the individual who when he sees you come into the house dripping from the storm inquires pleasantly, "Is it raining?" If you were whittling and the knife slipped and cut off the top of a finger he would say just as pleasantly, "Did you cut yourself?" It seems the chief business in the life of the cheerful idiot to ask fool questions. Mostly people put up with him as they do with mosquitoes—because they can't help themselves. But once in a while the cheerful idiot runs up against the wrong man. It was that way when the C. I. of the boarding house tackled a miserable looking fellow-boarder who was tortured by dyspepsia. "Hello Smith," he cried, "aren't you feeling well?" And Smith growled back: "It's none of your business how I'm feeling."

Talk about adding insult to injury! What could be any worse than asking a man who had suffering stamped all over him, "Aren't you feeling well?"

It's rather hard for the dyspeptic to make a stranger to the disease understand just how much suffering dyspepsia can cause. Words don't express it. That terrible gnawing sensation in the stomach is past description. Even after you have recited the specific aches and pains there are no terms to express the cumulative and combined effects of them all upon both mind and body.

DON'T CULTIVATE DYSPEPSIA.

That would seem unnecessary advice, yet it is a fact that in the main, people who finally become dyspeptics seem to have studied how quickest to bring on the disease. They eat irregularly. They eat unwholesome or innutritious foods. They eat heartily when they are tired with a day's work and the stomach needs rest instead of exercise. In fact if they made a study of the quickest way to dyspepsia or disease of the stomach in general and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, they could not practice more successful methods.

When dyspepsia once has its grip on the stomach the man who has experimented with tablets and powders and other palliatives without permanent relief finds himself asking the question, "Am I ever going to be well again so that I can eat with appetite and enjoyment?"

The one necessity to the recovery of health is the cure of the diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. Tablets of soda, mint, etc., will for the moment alter the condition in the stomach, but they won't alter the condition of the stomach itself. These things are therefore merely palliatives. Not only do they not cure but by affording temporary relief they lull the victim into a false security until he probably finds himself some day very much worse for their use.

HOW DYSPEPSIA IS CURED.

There is an almost certain cure for dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery always helps and almost always cures. In ninety-eight per cent. of cases in which the "Discovery" has been given a fair and faithful trial it has wrought a perfect and permanent cure. It has cured the most severe and obstinate conditions of stomach trouble which have failed to yield to any other medicine.

Mr. Ned Nelson, the Irish Comedian and Mimic of 577 Royden Street, Camden, N. J., writes: "We fulfilled an engagement of twelve weeks and the constant traveling gave me a bad touch of that dreaded disease called dyspepsia. I had tried everything possible to cure it till last week while playing at B. F. Keath's Bijou Theatre, Philadelpha, in the Nelson Trio, a professional friend of mine advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I tried it, and, thank God, with good results."

"For three years I suffered untold agony," writes Mrs. H. R. White, of Stanstead, Stanstead Co., Quebec (Box 115). "I would have spells of trembling and being sick at my stomach, pain in right side all the time; then it would work up into my stomach, and—such distress it is impossible to describe. I wrote to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, stating my case to them, and they very promptly answered and told me what to do. I took eight bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and five vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Thanks to Dr. Pierce and his medicine I am a well woman to-day. Dr. Pierce's medicines also cured my mother of liver complaint from which she had been a sufferer for fifteen years. We highly recommend these medicines to all suffering people."

Diseases which seem to be remote from the stomach, but which originate in the stomach are cured through the stomach. For this reason diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, and other organs are cured by "Golden Medical Discovery," when it has cured the disease of the stomach and its associated organs of digestion and nutrition.

It has been a surprise to many people who have taken "Golden Medical Discovery" for stomach "trouble," to find that as the stomach was cured, diseases of long standing which had affected other organs were cured also. The "weak" heart becomes strong, the sluggish liver active, the clogged kidneys are cleansed, the lungs made sound. The whole body is practically renewed, built up with firm, healthy flesh, and not puffed up with flabby fat.

Some dealers desiring to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines will sometimes offer the customer a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," claiming it to be "just as good." Nothing is just as good for you which has not just as good a record of cures, and no other medicine has a record of cures comparable with those effected by the use of "Golden Medical Discovery."

GIVE IT TO SOME ONE ELSE.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, containing over a thousand large pages and more than 700 illustrations is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. If you don't feel the need of this valuable medical work yourself, why not give it to some friend or young married couple. It is an invaluable gift, and one which will be highly appreciated by the recipient. Send 31 one-cent stamps for the volume in durable cloth binding, or only 21 stamps for the book in paper covers. Schley and Santiago

BY GEORGE EDWARD GRAHAM.

The intrepid Associated Press war correspondent, who was aboard the U. S. S. Brooklyn during the entire five months of the campaign. Illustrated with photographs taken by the Author during the fight.

The Most Sensational Book of the Day.

The true story of the famous cruise of the Flying Squadron under commodore Winfield Scott Schley, including the blockade and destruction of the Spanish fleet, TOLD FOR THE FIRST TIME.

Contains an autograph endorsement and personal account of the battle by Rear-Admiral Schley.

"The facts of the story of the movements and operations of the Flying Squadron as the author tells them in this book are correct." —W. S. SCHLEY.

An interesting narrative of facts. Explains the so-called "Retrograde Movement," the "Loop," the "Coaling Problem," and settles conclusively every adverse ruling of the Court of Inquiry.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, when Governor of New York, said:—"Mr. Graham's story is the best account I have heard or read of the naval fighting during the war. It needed just as much courage to go about taking photographs as it did to work the guns."

THE NEW YORK HERALD says:—"Mr. Graham, in the telling of facts, leaves the reader free to make the deduction that several naval officers need a Court of Inquiry to re-establish their reputations, if they can be re-established."

No subject has ever been before the public that has interested everybody as the manner in which Admiral Schley has been treated, and the American people demand the full recognition of the Hero of Santiago. This book tells everything just as it occurred and as the eyewitnesses saw it. Book is selling like wildfire. Liberal commissions. Outfit and books now ready. Send seven 2-cent stamps for canvassing outfit. ACT QUICK. Now is the time to MAKE MONEY.

Price $1.50, $1.75, $2.25, $2.75, according to style of binding desired.

A calcinmous growth was cut out of the fleshy part of a horse's jaw in Harris' livery stables one day this week. The growth, which is oval in shape, is as hard as flint and had been about ten years in forming. When it was first observed it was about the size of a marble. When cut out it had attained the size and shape of a hen's egg.

ADDRESS

TO THE

Voters of Sonoma City.

As we have offered to serve you again in the position of City Trustees we desire to state the reasons therefor.

A sum which now exceeds $1700 has been accumulated by the present Board of Trustees and which forms part of the building fund for our much needed new City Hall, and before another year has passed this fund will be large enough to warrant beginning the work of construction. The promptness and cheerfulness with which the tax-payers have paid this extra levy encourages us to believe that our plans and efforts have your approval, and if re-elected we promise to erect a City Hall building which our townsmen will find both useful and pleasing

The plans of the opposing candidates have not been made public, but you will all recall what became of the "Sewer Fund," which one board had accumulated, upon advent of a new board.

We propose to do all we can to improve the condition of our streets and the general appearance of our town in so far as it can be done within the limits of strict economy. We are firmly convinced that Sonoma has waited long enough for outsiders to come in and improve the town, and it is only through the unit d efforts of our progressive citizens that we can hope to make our city an attractive and good place to live in.

We are for progress—and if you believe that the best interests of our town will be subserved by electing Trustees whose views on municipal affairs are either unknown, or are opposed to the improvements planned, it is your duty to vote for them; if not, we ask your support.

G. S. HARRIS,
A. BULOTTI,
F. T. DUHRING.

SONOMA, April 11th, 1902.

TOWN AND VALLEY.

Miss M. L. McCullouch Owned Shares in a Sailing Vessel.

Miss M. L. McCullouch, a former teacher in the Sonoma High School, who recently died in San Francisco while undergoing an operation for appendicitis, left a neat liftle estate valued at about $10,000. She left no will and the property, which consists of twelve shares in the capital stock of the barkentine Amaranth and money on deposit in the German Savings bank, will go to her parents, as she was an only child. John E. McCullouch, the father, has petitioned the Superior Court of Alameda county for letters of administration on the estate.

Improvements at Depot.

The California Northwestern Railway Company, with its characteristic enterprise and a determination to hold its end up when it comes to making improvements for public use, is engaged in making some substantial repairs in and around its depot in this place. The depot building is being newly painted and completely renovated, a new platform has been built and the grounds surrounding the depot are being filled in with crushed rock. If the people of Sonoma would show half the disposition to make improvements as our railway does Sonoma would soon put on a neat and modern appearance. To use the expression of one of our prominent business men, who favors public improvements, the California Northwestern is all right.

Republican Club.

The Glen Ellen Republican Club was organized in that town Tuesday night with a membership of thirty-five. Meetings will be held semi-monthly in Mervyn Hall. At the next meeting of the club officers will be elected and other important business transacted. The following were elected delegates to the Republican League Convention, which convenes in San Jose on the 14th inst: W. S. Staley, Henry Chauvet, Harry Weise and Elmer Smith.

Paralyzed.

Wm. Hope, for many years a resident of this place, arrived in town Tuesday morning on the California Northwestern, after an absence of several months in Santa Rosa. His lower limbs are completely paralyzed and he had to be carried from the cars to a private conveyance. Mr. Hope was taken to San Francisco for medical treatment the following day.

Fine Horses.

The fine bred prize winner stallions "Pollock" and "Clyde Boy," owned by T. A. Nufer, have sired quite a number of fine draught horses in the valley the past few years. "Pollock" has won six prizes and "Clyde Boy" four at the Sacramento State Fair. These horses are descended from the best of imported stock and are very much admired by horse men.

A Remonstrance.

Some weeks ago the people of El Verano and vicinity presented a petition to the Board of Supervisors asking that the Agua Caliente polling place be changed to El Verano.

On Monday last the residents of Agua Caliente filed a remonstrance with the Board against the removal.

The Supervisors have as yet taken no action in the matter.

Killed Nine Coyotes.

W. H. Duerson, a Sonoma mountain hunter, on Thursday of last week, captured nine coyotes on the Fair ranch near this place. He also shot a wild cat and a badger. The coyotes were found in one nest and although but a few days old Mr. Duerson will receive $45 from the county for their scalps.

Strike on Chavuet's Ranch.

The foreman and nine men struck on the Chauvet ranch at Glen Ellen last Sunday. The men demanded higher wages, but Mr. Chauvet refused to accede to their demands, and foreman, cook and every employee on the ranch quit work. Mr. Chauvet will secure a new force of hands.

Road Improvement.

The road running from Buena Vista station through the vineyards of Anderson, Dresel, Winkle and the Gundlach-Bundschu Company, has been newly graded and otherwise improved. The road is a private one and intersects the county road leading to Napa near the Haubert ranch.

ADLER'S NEW BUSINESS BLOCK.

It Will be of Iron and Stone 60 x 61 Feet.

Adam Adler, the owner of one of the most prominent business corners in Sonoma (on Napa street and First street East), will commence the erection of his proposed business block this month.

The building will be one story in height and will occupy a frontage on Napa street of 61 feet and will extend along First-street East 60 feet.

It will be of iron and stone and there will be floor room for three stores, the space of which has already been leased to responsible parties.

The edifice will be 24 feet high. The frontage will be of iron and the east wall will be of broken ashler. The building will be wired with electric lights and will be of modern design and finish.

The building will be completed and ready for occupancy early this spring and will be a monument to Mr. Adler's enterprise and public spiritedness.

Union High School Dance, Class '03.

Union Hall was crowded to the doors on Friday evening of last week with friends and patrons of the Sonoma Valley Union High School, who came to witness the exercises prepared by the Class of '03. The stage was prettily draped in yellow and white, the class colors, and a large American flag was hung in the background. Tall ferns were gracefully banked around the walls of the hall, which with its bright lights and gaily attired ladies presented an animated scene long before the curtain went up.

The program was announced by Prof. Murdock, principal of the school.

The first number was a piano solo by Miss Gertie Lane. Mr. Hunt gave a comic recitation, which was followed by a farce written by Mr. D. A. Gordenker, entitled, "Look Pleasant, Please," with the following young people in the cast: Miss Evelyn Waugaman, Miss Nellie Gordenker and Mr. C. McQuiddy. The characters were well sustained and the young candidates for histronic honors elicited much applause.

Dancing followed and a general good time was had by the large number of young people present. Ice cream was served gratuitously between dances.

The net receipts were about $40, which will be expended in fitting up a tennis court on the High School grounds.

A Garden Tea for the Woman's Club.

The Social Committee of the Woman's Club, composed of the following young women, Mrs. Pauline Bates, Mrs. G. D. Rich, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Miss Theo. Bates, Miss Doris Clewe, Miss Celeste Granice and Miss Katie McDonell, are making preparations for the garden tea to be given next Saturday afternoon in the beautiful residence grounds of Mrs. D. Duhring. All the members of the Club are requested to be present by four o'clock, at which hour tea will be served.

There will also be vocal and instrumental music. Mrs. D. Duhring, who resides in one of the finest homes in Sonoma, will on this occasion extend hospitality to all members of the Woman's Club.

Carloads of Wine for the East.

Evidently the white and red wines of the Dresel winery are becoming as popular in the East, as they are at home. Foreman Kerridge who has charge of the winery during Mr. Dresel's absence in the East, made another big shipment of wine to Chicago, Ill., and Logansport, Indiana, this week. These shipments will be followed in a few days by orders from Detroit, Michigan, and Cincinnati, Ohio, for two carload lots.

Seymour, the Forger.

Chas. Seymour, arrested in this place by Sheriff Grace a few weeks ago on a charge of forgery committed on a Healdsburg firm, upon whom he passed a bogus check, will be arraigned before the Superior Court next Mondyy. Ross Campbell, the attorney of Santa Rosa, has been appointed by Judge Burnett to defend the accused.

GENEROUS UNCLE BILL.

Gives Some Timely Advice to His Married Niece.

A Realistic Romance.

In a remote hamlet back east lived a likely but demure maiden and a bashful young man; both were hopeless victims of "love microbes" that were doing effective work. Their ardent affections were mutual and both had been living for some years with one and the same object in view.

Harry suddenly "woke up" and decided that procrastication was the thief of time and bliss, and he made haste to bring matters to a focus. "Hettie, may I—I—I—er I," he blushed profusely and was shaking like a leaf. Again he tried: "Would you—oo—oo consent to be—" At this point Hettie bravely came to his rescue; her face was radiant with joy. "Harry, I—er—I've—been trying to say 'yes' all this time, and I—er—mean it too, if you do." And to this day Harry insists that he "popped the question." Very soon there was a wedding and not long afterwards Hettie received a letter from her generous uncle, Bill Taylor of Sonoma, congratulating her on what he called her "grit," and proposed if they would come out he would start them up in life. A few days subsequently Harry and Hettie were bidding loved ones adieu and speeding in this direction.

When the carriage just from the train arrived at the Union Hotel, Uncle Bill was there to greet and to welcome the much elated young oouple, and after hearty congratulations, he conducted them to a splendid suite that had previously been arranged for with R. F. WILDE, the affable, suave and alert host. It was in the cheerful and inviting dining room of the hotel at breakfast next morning, while partaking of a tempting menu that was being politely served, that Uncle Bill first unfolded his plans to the appreciative newcomers, obligating himself to build and furnish for them an ideal American home but until then, said he you'll find this hotel a home like and an agreeable place to live.

After breakfast the anxious newcomers at Uncle Bill's request accompanied oim about town with a view to fietting acquainted with Sonoma and to arrange in detail all matters incident to building the new residence.

"And now for a desirable and pleasant site to build on; let's go in and confer with D. H. TWING, the suave and conversant real estate agent here, where is listed the best properties in town and the country about. Twing was not long in selling them a lot.

"In erecting a home—one to be left as a tribute to succeeding generations—it is necessary to use only A 1 lumber and building materials.

"I will arrange with THE WM. GREEN ESTATE about the lumber, etc.," declared Uncle in positive tones. "The commodious yards are replete with pine and redwood lumber of all dimensions and the sundry articles indispensable in the construction of buildings."

"In the matter of plumbing," reminded Uncle Bill, "we cannot use too much care, for both health and comfort depends upon the proper sanitary conditions of the house and nothing contributes so much to this end as does scientific plumbing, and when coupled with nice porcelain bath tubs, good sinks, and pretty and appropriate fixtures, it combines convenience and comfort and as well a pleasing effect in the interior finish. Now, to avoid trouble in after years we'll make a deal with J. J. DUNBAR about executing the plumbing and roofing contracts. Then we will be sure of good workmanship, artistic fixtures and a square deal. J. J. DUNBAR is abreast of the times in his branch. Hettie while there selected her range and stoves and cooking utensils.

It matters not how pretentious a residence may be in point of architecture, it ceases to be attractive or tenable until it has received the brush of the painter and decorator, chipped in the bride. "Yes, yes; that's so, and I'll take no chances on a botcher, either," responded Uncle Bill. "I'll see FRED BULOTTI, who is an artist and an energetic contractor, employing only skilled painters, decorators and paper hangers, to assist in the execution of any job that is tendered him, and from his hands we will be assured of a tasty, attractive and inviting residence," declared Uncle Bill, "since FRED BULLOTTI is doing these contracts."

"Now that our splendid new residence will soon be ready to move into, we'll next take steps about furnishing it. It will be my aim to have it par excellence of Sonoma," ventured Uncle Bill, "so if you'll join me we'll go to F. CLEWE and talk it over with him, our well informed and diligent exponent of furniture and general merchandise here."

The trio were courteously received in the furniture department at the store where Hettie soon selected her parlor, chamber and bedroom suits and other requisites in furnishings for the new home, so enticing were the pretty and unique effects comprised in the stock. F. CLEWE will furnish the residence "out and out" from top to bottom—, and assured the bride he would spare no pains or effort to furnish it in good tone and have it ideal in all respects.

One thing more before dispensing with the question of the larder. Now about fresh and cured meats, said Uncle Bill, we will go over and meet HENRY WEBER, our butcher and live dealer in dressed, smoked meats and the kindred things to a well-conducted market. HENRY WEBER keeps a vigilant watch along these lines and his good effort to meet the demands made upon this market, for choice, toothsome meats, is resultant of a lucrative patronage and the favor of an appreciative and long list of families who seem to recognize correct purveying. Uncle Bill laughed to see him handle the saw and cleaver with so much dexterity.

"The liberal use of fruits on the table nowadays is not only a popular custom," said Uncle Bill, "but all intelligent housewives concede that it is appetizing and healthful. Now, for delicious fruits and vegetables, produce, fish and oysters, and such like we'll go and arrange with DIXON FUSSELL, who is conducting a neat and well-stocked store with choice and tempting assortments and you will always find him civil and prompt in all his dealings."

In late years it is doubtful if any branch of business has been more discussed than the one of how to shoe a horse properly. In many States one must hold a diploma before he can conduct a horse-shoeing business. In Sonoma we have a new adjunct to our business list in GARDNER & HULINGS, who will conduct a horse shoeing business along scientific as well as a general blacksmithing and wheelwrighting line. They have a spacious and well arranged shop and are well facilitated for executing any character of work incident to a well regulated general business. The many specimen of shoes shown in a case, designed to meet the demands from all conditions of animals, bespeaks the skill of GARDNER & HULINGS along this line. Mr. Hulings was for eight years and seven months employed by ex-governor Stanford, doing the shoeing for his private stable.

"Oh yes, Uncle, you were to take us for a drive." "Yes, yes, I was—and I'll keep my word too." Just then a pair of "high steppers" attached to an attractive surrey with fine trapping very apparent, drove up in front of the hotel. "That rig came from GRANVILLE HARRIS' Stables," remarked Uncle Bill as he looked it over, "our well facilitated and well versed livery man, here, doing a general livery sale and feed business and occupying a commodious barn where is kept substantial and neat vehicles for all uses.

Since Uncle Bill's first gift to the young couple will be a pretentious residence, and not knowing just what would be commodious and acceptable to them he suddenly remembered SMALL & STOCKWELL as being conversant with twentieth-century ideas in architecture and well facilitated builders. So he lost no time in looking them up. In due time the plans were all ready for a modern residence. And Uncle Bill then and there also awarded the contract for building it, remarking that nobody ever questioned the integrity of SMALL & STOCKWELL in fulfilling contracts to the letter.

Those who attend will be assured a grand treat and an enjoyable evening. Admission to the hall will be fifty cents. *

QUEER MEXICAN CUSTOMS.

Convenient Manner of Performing a Dreaded Society Duty.

Some of the Mexican customs save much trouble, says a correspondent of the Boston Herald. You are invited out to dine. On rising from the table you thank your hosts for their hospitality, and thus is your dreaded dinner call accomplished. Now, I contend that this is most civilized and amazingly convenient. No Mexican arises from the table without expressing his thanks for the hospitality extended to him, and always this is done with old fashioned grace of speech. The poorest man you have at table, perhaps, as I have seen, a humble ranchero, would not forget this little act of thanks, not for his life.

A man of rough exterior will sit down to meat with you, and, though he may mix up his forks and brandish a fork in the air along with his knife as he talks, he will observe many graceful customs, offering whatever is passed him to a lady at his elbow and if he gets a tidbit insist on his neighbor sharing it. In country places your host in true Moorish fashion will put a choice morsel in your mouth. At bottom Mexican etiquette is Moro-Spanish, and many of the most familiar articles of food hark back for their origin to the Arabs. Especially is this so in the matter of sweetmeats, and the famous alondigas, meat balls of small size with a stuffing of eggs and sometimes of spices, are Moorish for a thousand years. On the tables of the well to do the dessert is a matter of wonder and shows the Arabian taste for sweets. Sometimes half a dozen delicious preserves will be seen. The people have a very sweet tooth.

It Spelled the Name.

He walked up to the hotel register and signed his name with a flourish, "E. K. Phthologny rrh."

"Look here, Turner!" exclaimed the clerk, who knew him well, "Are they hunting for you or what? Where do you get that outlandish name?"

"Get back, my boy, get back! You're slow," replied Turner airily as he lit a cigar. "That's my same old name, written in plain English and pronounced as usual—just 'Turner.' Look at it. Of course I do it just to get them all guessing. They wonder what nation I am from; what my name is. I can now hear people talk about me all around. It is, as I said before, English spelling. 'Phth,' there is the sound of 't' in 'phthisis; 'olo,' there is the 'ur' in 'colonel;' 'gn,' there is the 'n' in 'gnat;' 'yrrh' is the sound of 'er' in 'myrrh.' Now, if that does not spell 'Turner' what does it spell?"—Chat.

Wearing Out the Nerves.

Many people wear themselves out needlessly. Their conscience is a tyrant. An exaggerated sense of duty leads many a person to anxious, ceaseless activity, to be constantly doing something, overpunctual, never idle a second of time, scorn to rest. Such are in unconscious nerve tension. They say they have no time to rest, they have so much to do, not thinking they are rapidly unfitting themselves for probably what would have been their best and greatest work in after years. Self control of nerve force is the great lesson of health and therefore of life itself. To understand how to relax is to understand how to strengthen nerves. Hearty laughter is a source of relaxation, as are also all high thoughts, as those of hope, beauty, trust or love. Relaxation is found in diversion.—London Doctor.

Reckoning Without His Host.

A little story from the Atlanta Constitution seems to indicate that Tennyson is not a name to conjure with always:

A poetical traveler, stopping at a Georgia inn, dismounted from his horse and called to the landlord, who was lounging on the veranda:

"Wrinkled ostler, grim and thin,
Here is custom come your way;
Take my brute and lead him in;
Stuff his ribs with moldy hay."

"Ef you say that ag'in," said the landlord, "I'll lam you side the head with this hickory! Thar's a boy here to look after the hosses!"

"My good man," explained the traveler, "I meant no offense. I was only quoting Tennyson to you."

"Hang Tennyson!" exclaimed the landlord. "And tell him I said so! Neither him nor you kin make a stable boy o' me!"

A VALUABLE MEDICINE.

For Coughs and Colds in Children.

"I have not the slightest hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all who are suffering from coughs or colds," says Chas. M. Cramer, Esq., a well-known watchmaker of Columbo, Ceylon. "It has been some two years since the City Dispensary first called my attention to this valuable medicine and I have repeatedly used it and it has always been beneficial. It has cured me quickly of all chest colds. It is especially effective for children and seldom takes more than one bottle to cure them of hoarseness. I have persuaded many to try this valuable medicine, and they are as well pleased as myself over the results." For sale by F. Duhring. *

ARE YOU DEAF? ANY HEAD NOISES?
ALL CASES OF
DEAFNESS OR HARD HEARING ARE NOW CURABLE
by our new invention. Only those born deaf are incurable.
HEAD NOISES CEASE IMMEDIATELY.
F. A. WERMAN, OF BALTIMORE, SAYS:
BALTIMORE, Md., March 20, 1901.
Gentlemen:—Being entirely cured of deafness, thanks to your treatment, I will now give you a full history of my case, to be used at your discretion.
About five years ago my right ear began to sing, and this kept on getting worse, until I lost my hearing in this ear entirely.
I underwent a treatment for catarrh, for three months, without any success, consulted a number of physicians, among others, the most eminent ear specialist of this city, who told me that only an operation could help me, and even that only temporarily, that the head noises would then cease, but the hearing in the affected ear would be lost forever.
I then saw your advertisement accidentally in a New York paper, and ordered your treatment. After I had used it only a few days according to your directions, the noises ceased, and to-day, after five weeks, my hearing in the diseased ear has been entirely restored. I thank you heartily and beg to remain
Very truly yours,
F. A. WERMAN, 730 S. Broadway, Baltimore, Md.
